THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL
TWENTY-THIRD STREET AT WASHINGTON CIRCLE
WASHINGTON 7, D. C.

DEPARTMENT OF SURGERY

January 24, 1950

Charles R. Drew, M.D.
Professor of Surgery
Howard University
School of Medicine
Washington 1, D. C.

Dear Dr. Drew:

I shall be very glad for you to use my name on the application for fellowship in the American College of Surgeons. There is no question in my mind that you should be a member of the College, not that I feel you will get so much out of the College although the meetings are sometimes stimulating, but I believe you are more or less obligated because of your position to belong to the College.

I shall also be glad to discuss the problem of training at Gallinger with you. I am sure you know, however, that I am not on the staff at Gallinger at the present time and therefore have no official standing or influence as far as the training program is concerned.

Please give me a ring sometime during January, so that we can get together.

My best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Brian Blades

BRIAN BLADES, M.D.
Professor of Surgery