Dear Dr Dodge:

Thank you very much for the information and for the reprints. I am very sorry to learn that I do not already have all your papers. formerly It must be that they were not forwarded from a former address as you suggest. I take some pride in keeping my reprints in good order and insist that students "sign up" when they borrow; therefore I reasonably sure I didn't lose them. I shall take good care of the fine collection you sent me and will see that good use is made of them.

I should write to Dr Edgerton about some wild Neurospora strains.

Thanks again, Sincerely
Beadle
