

Memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

To: Bernie

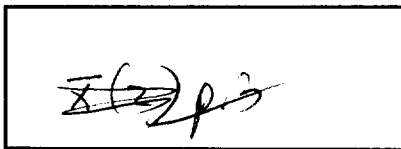

APR 14 1978

Thank you for the texts.

These don't impute any position to me for asking, but I am curious about ~~your~~ your reasons for such a categorical statement that clonal reproduction in man will and should be forbidden. (Monozygotic twins too - if they could be anticipated?) I assume you go beyond the risks of an untried technology. Are you afraid it will significantly displace exogamy?

Or is it that the heat is too strong?

Josh

PROFESSOR JOSHUA LEDERBERG
Department of Genetics
School of Medicine
Stanford University
Stanford, California 94305