CROOKED ARM.

The accompanying engraving correctly represents Dr. Hebbard's instrument as applied by him, for the cure of stiff and crooked elbow joints. In a large majority of such cases the stiffness and deformity depends upon contraction of the ligaments round the joints, and may be easily cured without pain in a short time, by the application of this Instrument, and suitable liniments to relax the contracted ligaments round the joint. By turning the screw attached to the end of this instrument in front, the arm may be bent or straightened gradually without pain, and natural motion in the joint soon acquired. All that is requisite to insure success is that there shall be the LEAST MOTION in the joint.

STIFF and CROOKED KNEE JOINT

In all cases of Stiff or Crooked Knee Joints, a cure can be effected without pain or interruption of the daily use of the limb, where there is the least motion of the joint, by the application of this Instrument and proper means to relax the cords and ligaments of the joint. Dr. Hebbard has cured hundreds of such cases without much pain, or any violent means.

Crooked Feet.

Dr. H. also keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of the best kind of instruments for the cure of crooked feet. The lower engraving represents one side of the club-foot shoe, and also the steel instrument attached to it, for the purpose of straightening the foot; also the same instrument and shoe as applied by Dr. H. for this purpose. Dr. H. also keeps on hand a great variety of ingenious instruments and splints, for the cure of all kinds of lameness and deformities, which he can apply at short notice, and thus relieve hundreds of cases of lameness, without any pain whatever.
