Dear Jack, I infer that you are now President of Rockefeller. You certainly landed on your feet. I was surprised until I realized that your Peck and Everbrook are almost identical personalities.

Congratulations. I was very busy after I answered them at that time and never found time to write. All I know is that it was some time after Pearl Harbor - maybe a few months - may be a year.

I thought Beets wanted to clean up the King-over story. Everyone, Mullin, Sturt, Searing, Emerson, Beets, had concluded that King over was demolished by the gas-camp pales cattle. I sent him, Beets, he had something else in mind. He also got fluffy from me ever when I visited him a few years later (don't ask this year) fluffy was the only one he was setting... I had to show it at 4:00! Later he only grew 4 spares out of eight.

I read some place that he said that he got his cultures from Mallock but I used only Tetraspanne.

Dodge was crazy about tetramino and asked me to do some work on it. I obliged and he was pleased but for some one it was a beast. He didn't see the utility of Mallock wouldn't wash for anything else although I tried to persuade him

Dodge said in St. Petersburg only for genetics best when we discussed me escape I chose that because I had so much vigor. Best only used Escoba & this only mixed cultures were mine.
In Steptoe and Betch's book they said that my analysis was flawed. They had to explain that X-ray was highly non-randome and the high frequency of 2-sided studies that Belling had predicted were a reality. They forced him to back down by telling him that X-ray was often non-random.

I think Bect recognized the truth but went along with Steptoe (who was very, very stubborn) just to keep in his good grace. So Bect may have deep-sixed the X-ray-euph-pale study. You can find photos in my journal of Jenkins place.

I have a book coming out shortly (Vantage Press) The Theory and Practice of Natural Healing. Your library should have a copy. I remember here you don't like my handwriting but I'm incoherent.
Enlisted all lists of my Newspaper Publications.

Jed died in '77. Esther & Jeffery, if I went at all, I and Esther took a picture of us. It was the last one Esther of Jeddy.

It was a slow recovery
for me but I started writing
I am now working on third Poems.

Essays on Theoretical Physics

The Games of TH Morgan
(To correct Garlands Scandalous Book)

Structure & Form in the Great Celt.

Best
Carl
PUBLICATIONS OF CARL C. LINDEGREN

