THE AMERICAN PEDIATRIC SOCIETY.

THE American Pediatric Society met for permanent organization in Washington, D.C., September 18, 1888, in a parlor at the Arlington Hotel. The first session commenced at 10 A.M. In the absence of the temporary Chairman, Dr. J. Lewis Smith, of New York, the meeting was called to order by the temporary Secretary, Dr. W. D. Booker, of Baltimore.

Dr. A. Jacobi, of New York, was elected temporary Chairman, and Dr. W. D. Booker, of Baltimore, temporary Secretary.

By request of the Chairman the Secretary gave a brief statement of the preliminary organization of the Society, as follows:

"After the adjournment of the Pediatric Section of the Ninth International Medical Congress, September 9, 1887, a meeting was held by a few of the members of the Section, and on motion of Dr. W. D. Booker, of Baltimore, seconded by Dr. I. N. Love, of St. Louis, it was decided to organize The American Pediatric Society. Dr. J. Lewis Smith, of New York, was elected temporary Chairman, and Dr. W. D. Booker, of Baltimore, temporary Secretary. The Chairman was authorized to take such measures as he saw fit to secure the co-operation of some of those physicians who had taken a special interest in the advancement of the study of diseases in children, and, when advisable, to appoint five of these to act with the Chairman and Secretary as a council to arrange for the permanent organization of the Society. Notices were sent to a limited number of physicians who had become known through their interest and work in promoting a more scientific study of diseases in children, asking for their views in regard to the propriety of establishing the Society, and inviting co-operation. The response to these invitations showed a general desire to organize the Society, and a hearty co-operation was promised. With this cordial approval of the movement it was decided to leave the permanent organization of the Society to be effected altogether by those participating in it, so that all could have an equal voice and responsibility in whatever measures were adopted. No further steps were taken in the matter except to send the announcement of this meeting to those who had accepted the invitation to participate in it."

The motion was then made by Dr. Watson to organize The American Pediatric Society, which was unanimously carried.

Drs. Jacobi, Booker, and Watson were appointed a committee to draft a constitution, and to report the same at 12 M., to which time the Society adjourned.

SECOND SESSION.

The Society was called to order at 12 M. by the temporary Chairman, Dr. Jacobi. The committee reported the draft of a constitution (see page 5), which was unanimously adopted, after which the permanent officers (see page 8) were elected.

Dr. Meigs moved that propositions for membership be considered in order, during the present session of the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons. Carried.

Dr. Latimer moved that each member be assessed five dollars, to be passed to the credit of dues for the ensuing year. Carried.

The Secretary read a communication from Dr. William Pepper, Chairman of Executive Committee of the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, extending, in the name of that committee, a cordial invitation to the members of this Society to attend the sessions of the Congress. Also one from Dr. S. C. Busey, Chairman of Committee of Arrangements, granting to the members of this Society the same privileges to the social entertainments as were enjoyed by the members of other special societies.

It was moved that this Society apply for admission to the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons. Unanimously carried.

The Secretary was instructed to present the application to the Executive Committee of the Congress.

Dr. A. Jacobi was elected delegate to the Congress.

The Society then adjourned to meet next year, the time and place to be decided upon hereafter.

THERAPEUTICS OF INFANCY AND CHILDHOOD,

By A. JACOBI, M.D.,

Clinical Professor of Children in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, President of the New York Academy of Medicine, etc.,

which began in the January number, 1888, will be continued during 1889. The plan and scope of these articles are given in the following extract from Prof. Jacobi's letter to our editor:

"I will prepare an essay of ten or twelve pages for every monthly issue of your journal. The subjects will be therapeutical. The first paper will probably contain general principles in their application to the disorders of early age. The following will treat of the therapeutics of the diseases of the newly-born, of developmental and infectious diseases, those of the organs of circulation and respiration, genito-urinary organs, stomach, and other abdominal viscera, muscles and bones, skin, nervous system, etc. Other subjects which will be treated of afterwards are certain classes of remedies, such as anaesthetics, narcotics, anti-febriles, purgatives, absorbents, roborants and stimulants, etc. If there be time and room, the most interesting diseases, such as epilepsy, chorea, whooping-cough, and growths, may become the subjects of special papers."

The series of practical articles on the

Professor of Physiology and Diseases of Children, etc. (Medical College of Ohio), Cincinnati, O.,

which began in the September number, 1888, will be concluded during 1889.

It is the intention of the writers of these articles to complete a subdivision of their respective subjects in every number of the ARCHIVES, so that each issue will contain the mature observations of these distinguished authors and teachers upon their respective special subjects.

The volume begins with the January number, but subscriptions may begin at any time.
