REGISTRATION.

2. The Registration fee shall be $10.00 for each member residing in the United States, but no fee shall be charged to foreign members. Each registered member shall receive a card of membership and be furnished a set of the transactions.

ABSTRACTS, PAPERS AND DISCUSSIONS.

3. Contributors are required to forward abstracts of their papers, not to exceed six hundred words each, to be in the hands of the Secretary-General not later than the tenth of July, 1893. These abstracts shall be translated into English, French, Spanish and Portuguese, and shall be published in advance of the meeting for the convenience of the Congress, and no paper shall be placed upon the programme which has not been thus presented by abstract. Abstracts will be translated by the Literary Bureau of the Congress at the request of contributors. Papers to be presented to Sections must not consume more than twenty minutes each in reading, and when of greater length, must be read by abstract. Papers read by abstract may be printed in full in the transactions, subject to approval by the Editorial Committee. Abstracts should be forwarded through the Secretaries of Sections. Papers and discussions will be printed in the language in which they may be presented. All papers read in the Sections shall be surrendered to the Secretaries of the Sections; all addresses read in the General Session shall be surrendered to the Secretary-General as soon as read; and all discussions shall be at once reduced to writing by the participants.

INCORPORATION.

4. The Chairman of the Committee on Organization shall cause the Congress to be incorporated under the laws of Ohio, and fifteen trustees shall be elected in accordance therewith, who by by-laws and through the Executive Committee shall supervise all receipts and disbursements by the Treasurer in accordance with the laws of Ohio. The President, Secretary-General, Treasurer, the member of the International Executive Committee for the United States, and Executive Presidents of Sections shall be ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees.

FOREIGN NOMINATIONS.

5. All nominations by the International Executive Committee must be in the hands of the Chairman of the Committee on Organization by June 1st, 1892, and in default thereof the Committee on Organization shall elect officers for countries thus delinquent.

THE ORGANIZATION OF SECTIONS.

6. The officers of each section shall consist of—Honorary Presidents, who shall be residents of the constituent countries of the Congress; one Executive President, who shall organize the work of the Section, direct its deliberations, and deliver an inaugural address at its opening session; one English-speaking Secretary and one Spanish-speaking Secretary, residents of the United States, who shall co-operate with the Executive President in conducting the correspondence of the section; and there shall be one Secretary for each section, resident in each additional constituent country of the Congress.

DOMESTIC AUXILIARY COMMITTEE.

7. The Auxiliary Committee for the United States shall be elected by the Committee on Organization and shall consist of one member for each local medical society, or, in the absence of medical organization, then one in each considerable center of population, which Auxiliary Committee shall co-operate with the Committee on Organization and with the General Officers in promoting the welfare of the Congress. Nominations for the Auxiliary Committee shall be made by members of the Committee on Organization, each for his own State, except that in the failure of any member to make such nomination by January 1st, 1892, or in the inadequacy of the same, the Chairman of the Committee on Organization shall supply the deficiency.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

8. The Board of Trustees shall designate seven members, including the President, Treasurer, Secretary-General, and member of the International Executive Committee for the United States, who shall comprise an Executive Committee which shall transact all business of the Congress, ad interim in accordance with By-laws adopted by the Board of Trustees.

OFFICE OF THE PERMANENT SECRETARY OF THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION,

Philadelphia, June 4, 1891.

To the Medical Profession of the Western Hemisphere:

At the meeting of the AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, held at Washington, May 5th, 1891, DR. CHARLES A. L. REED, of Cincinnati, introduced the following:

Resolved, That the American Medical Association hereby extends a cordial invitation to the Medical Profession of the Western Hemisphere, to assemble in the United States in an Inter-Continental American Medical Congress.

Resolved, That the Committee on Nominations be, and is hereby instructed to nominate one member for each State and Territory, and one each from the Army, Navy, and Marine Hospital Service, who shall constitute a committee, which is hereby instructed to effect a permanent organization of the proposed Inter-Continental American Medical Congress, and to determine the time and place at which the same shall be held.

The resolutions were seconded by Dr. Wm. H. Pancoast and others, and unanimously adopted.

Pursuant to the foregoing, the following Committee was nominated and elected:

REPORT.

TO DR. HUNTER MCGUIRE,

President of the American Medical Association, Richmond, Virginia.

DEAR DOCTOR:—On behalf of the Committee appointed by the American Medical Association, May 5th, 1891, "to effect a permanent organization of an Inter-Continental American Medical Congress," I beg leave to report that the work has been prosecuted as diligently as possible. A series of regulations, hereby submitted, has been adopted and an organization in accordance therewith has been effected, in some degree, in all of the constituent countries except Paraguay. In several countries the organization has been completed in accordance with the regulations, while in some instances full lists of Secretaries have been secured; in others, Honorary Chairmen only have been furnished, while in still others the organization has not advanced beyond the appointment of a member of the International Executive Committee. The lists of officers are, however, sufficiently complete to furnish channels through which the necessary preliminary correspondence of the Sections may be inaugurated. In view of this, and the additional fact that a considerable time is necessary for the interchange of letters with some of the remoter countries, the Committee deems it expedient to submit for promulgation this Preliminary Announcement of the Congress.

The Committee entertains the hope that the organization may be completed in each of the constituent countries, in accordance with the Regulations, before the meeting of the Congress.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Committee.

CHARLES A. L. REED,

Chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, and Secretary-General of the Congress.

CINCINNATI, September 5th, 1892.

RICHMOND, VA., August 6th, 1892.

DR. CHARLES A. L. REED,

Chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization of the Pan-American Medical Congress.

DEAR DOCTOR:

I am in receipt of the report of the Committee on Organization of the Pan-American Medical Congress transmitting the Preliminary Announcement of the Organization. Permit me to state that I am gratified to note the completeness of the work which has already been accomplished by your Committee, and that, for the reasons stated in your letter, I deem the immediate publication of the preliminary announcement imperative to the success of the Congress.

With the assurance that the American Medical Association will do all in its power to promote the interests of the meeting at Washington in September of next year.

Very sincerely yours,

HUNTER MCGUIRE,

President of the American Medical Association.

By the Congress of the United States.

JOINT RESOLUTION

To authorize the President to invite certain governments to send delegates to the Pan-American Medical Congress.

A Joint Resolution was unanimously adopted by the Senate June 3, 1892, concurred in by the House of Representatives July 14, 1892, and approved July 18, 1892, by which the President was authorized and requested to invite the several governments of the Western Hemisphere to send official delegates to the meeting of the Pan-American Medical Congress to be held in the city of Washington, September fifth sixth, seventh and eighth, anno Domini eighteen hundred and ninety-three.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

TITLE.

1. This organization shall be known as THE PAN-AMERICAN MEDICAL CONGRESS, and shall meet once in——years.

MEMBERSHIP.

2. Members of the Congress shall consist of such members of the medical profession of the Western Hemisphere, including the West Indies and Hawaii, as shall comply with the special regulations regarding registration, or who shall render service to the Congress in the capacity of Foreign Officers.

OFFICERS.

3. The Executive Officers of the Congress shall be residents of the country in which the Congress shall be held, and shall consist of one President, such Vice-Presidents as may be determined by special regulations, one Treasurer, one Secretary-General, and one Presiding Officer and necessary Secretaries for each section, all of whom shall be elected by the Committee on Organization, and there shall be such Foreign Vice-Presidents, Secretaries and Auxiliary Committees as are hereinafter designated.

THE COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION.

4. The Committee on Organization shall be appointed by the representative medical association of the country in which the Congress shall meet. This committee shall select all domestic officers of the Congress, and shall at its discretion confirm all nominations by members of the International Executive Committee and in the event that any member of the International Executive Committee shall fail to nominate by the time specified by special regulation, the Committee on Organization shall elect officers for the country thus delinquent. It may appoint Vice-Presidents and Auxiliary Committeemen in foreign countries independently of nominations by the members of the International Executive Committee. It shall appoint Auxiliary Committees, arrange for the meeting, and frame special regulations for the session of Congress for which it was appointed. It shall make a report of its transactions to the opening session of the Congress.

THE INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

5. There shall be an International Executive Committee which shall be appointed by the first Committee on Organization and which shall consist of one member for each constituent country. This Committee shall hold permanent tenure of office except that when a member shall fail to be present at a meeting of the Congress, his office shall be declared vacant and the vacancy be filled by election held by the registered members from the country from which he was accredited. In the event of no representation whatever from the country in question, the members of the International Executive Committee present, shall determine what disposition shall be made of the office.

It shall be the duty of each member of the International Executive Committee to nominate from the medical profession of his country, one Vice-President for the Congress and one Secretary for each Section of the Congress, and to forward the same to the Chairman of the Committee on Organization; except that in any country in which the Congress shall meet, it shall be the duty of the member of the International Executive Committee for that country to request his representative national medical association to appoint a Committee on Organization, which Committee on Organization shall discharge the duties designated in Regulation IV. Members of the International Executive Committee shall also nominate such Auxiliary Committees, and shall furnish such information as the Committee on Organization may request.

INCORPORATION.

6. The Committee on Organization may at its discretion cause the Congress to be incorporated, which incorporation shall hold only until the final disbursement of funds for the session held in that particular country. In the event of such incorporation such additional officers shall be elected and in such manner as may be required by law.

CONSTITUENT COUNTRIES.

7. The following shall be considered as the constituent countries of the Pan-American Medical Congress:

Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Brazil, British North America, British West Indies (including B. Honduras), Chile, Dominican Republic, Honduras (Sp.), Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador, Republic of Colombia, Republic of Costa Rica, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Kingdom of Hawaii, Spanish West Indies, United States, Uruguay, Venezuela, Danish, Dutch and French West Indies.

SECTIONS.

8. The Sections of the Congress shall be as follows:

(1) General Medicine, (2) General Surgery, (3) Military Medicine and Surgery, (4) Obstetrics, (5) Gynecology and Abdominal Surgery, (6) Therapeutics, (7) Anatomy, (8) Physiology, (9) Diseases of Children, (10) Pathology, (11) Ophthalmology, (12) Laryngology and Rhinology, (13) Otolaryngology, (14) Dermatology and Syphilography, (15) General Hygiene and Demography, (16) Marine Hygiene and Quarantine, (17) Orthopaedic Surgery, (18) Diseases of the Mind and Nervous System, (19) Oral and Dental Surgery, (20) Medical Pedagogics, (21) Medical Jurisprudence, (22) Railway Surgery.

LANGUAGES.

9. The languages of the Congress shall be Spanish, French, Portuguese and English.

AUXILIARY COMMITTEES.

10. The Auxiliary Committee shall consist of one member for each medical society or one for each considerable center of population in each of the constituent countries of the Congress. Nominations for the Foreign Auxiliary Committee shall be made to the Chairman of the Committee on Organization by the members of the International Executive Committee, each for his own country, except that in the country in which the Congress is to be held nominations shall be made by the Committee on Organization. Appointments on the Auxiliary Committee shall hold only for the meeting for which they were made.

Members of the Auxiliary Committee shall be the official representatives of the Congress in their respective localities. It shall be their duty:

(1) To transmit to the profession of their respective districts all information relative to the Congress forwarded to them for that purpose by the General Officers.

(2) To co-operate with the Officers of Sections in securing desirable contributions to the proceedings of the Congress.

(3) To furnish to the General Officers such information as they may request for the purpose of promoting the interests of the Congress.

(4) To cause such publicity to be given to the development of the organization as will elicit the interest of the profession and secure attendance upon the meeting; and they shall discharge such other duties as will promote the welfare of the Congress.

AMENDMENTS.

11. Amendments to these Regulations can be made only by the International Executive Committee, on a majority vote, ten members constituting a quorum, at any meeting of the Congress.

SPECIAL REGULATIONS OF THE FIRST CONGRESS.

TIME AND PLACE OF MEETING.

1. The first Pan-American Medical Congress shall be held in the City of Washington, D. C., September 5, 6, 7, 8, A. D., 1893.

REGISTRATION.

2. The Registration fee shall be $10.00 for each member residing in the United States, but no fee shall be charged to foreign members. Each registered member shall receive a card of membership and be furnished a set of the transactions.

ABSTRACTS, PAPERS AND DISCUSSIONS.

3. Contributors are required to forward abstracts of their papers, not to exceed six hundred words each, to be in the hands of the Secretary-General not later than the tenth of July, 1893. These abstracts shall be translated into English, French, Spanish and Portuguese, and shall be published in advance of the meeting for the convenience of the Congress, and no paper shall be placed upon the programme which has not been thus presented by abstract. Abstracts will be translated by the Literary Bureau of the Congress at the request of contributors. Papers to be presented to Sections must not consume more than twenty minutes each in reading, and when of greater length, must be read by abstract. Papers read by abstract may be printed in full in the transactions, subject to approval by the Editorial Committee. Abstracts should be forwarded through the Secretaries of Sections. Papers and discussions will be printed in the language in which they may be presented. All papers read in the Sections shall be surrendered to the Secretaries of the Sections; all addresses read in the General Session shall be surrendered to the Secretary-General as soon as read; and all discussions shall be at once reduced to writing by the participants.

INCORPORATION.

4. The Chairman of the Committee on Organization shall cause the Congress to be incorporated under the laws of Ohio, and fifteen trustees shall be elected in accordance therewith, who by by-laws and through the Executive Committee shall supervise all receipts and disbursements by the Treasurer in accordance with the laws of Ohio. The President, Secretary-General, Treasurer, the member of the International Executive Committee for the United States, and Executive Presidents of Sections shall be ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees.

FOREIGN NOMINATIONS.

5. All nominations by the International Executive Committee must be in the hands of the Chairman of the Committee on Organization by June 1st, 1892, and in default thereof the Committee on Organization shall elect officers for countries thus delinquent.

THE ORGANIZATION OF SECTIONS.

6. The officers of each section shall consist of—Honorary Presidents, who shall be residents of the constituent countries of the Congress; one Executive President, who shall organize the work of the Section, direct its deliberations, and deliver an inaugural address at its opening session; one English-speaking Secretary and one Spanish-speaking Secretary, residents of the United States, who shall co-operate with the Executive President in conducting the correspondence of the section; and there shall be one Secretary for each section, resident in each additional constituent country of the Congress.

DOMESTIC AUXILIARY COMMITTEE.

7. The Auxiliary Committee for the United States shall be elected by the Committee on Organization and shall consist of one member for each local medical society, or, in the absence of medical organization, then one in each considerable center of population, which Auxiliary Committee shall co-operate with the Committee on Organization and with the General Officers in promoting the welfare of the Congress. Nominations for the Auxiliary Committee shall be made by members of the Committee on Organization, each for his own State, except that in the failure of any member to make such nomination by January 1st, 1892, or in the inadequacy of the same, the Chairman of the Committee on Organization shall supply the deficiency.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

8. The Board of Trustees shall designate seven members, including the President, Treasurer, Secretary-General, and member of the International Executive Committee for the United States, who shall comprise an Executive Committee which shall transact all business of the Congress, ad interim in accordance with By-laws adopted by the Board of Trustees.

BY-LAWS.

I.—OFFICERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Sec. 1. The officers of the Board of Trustees shall consist of a Chairman, a Secretary, who shall act as assistant secretary to the Secretary-General of the Congress, and a Treasurer.

§ 2. The Chairman shall be elected by ballot; the Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman, on recommendation of the Secretary-General; the Treasurer shall be the person elected Treasurer of the Congress. These officers shall perform the duties usually performed by such officers.

§ 3. These officers shall hold office during the continuance of the corporation.

II.—TREASURER.

The Treasurer shall give a good and sufficient bond, in the sum of $25,000. He shall receive all registration fees, and all other moneys paid to the credit of the Congress, and shall disburse the same on vouchers approved by the Board of Trustees, signed by the Secretary-General and the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

III.—THE COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.

The Committee of Arrangements shall consist of such number of physicians of the City of Washington, D. C., as may be determined upon and appointed by the President of the Congress, one member of which committee shall be designated by him as chairman. The Committee of Arrangements shall have charge of the facilities for registration, shall provide for transportation rates for physicians and their families attending the Congress, shall arrange for adequate hotel accommodations, shall arrange for the entertainment of the Congress, and issue the official program of the meeting. All expense thus incurred shall be paid out of the funds previously appropriated for the purpose by the Executive Committee, payment of the same to be made by the Treasurer on the official voucher of the Congress countersigned by the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements in addition to endorsements called for by By-Law II.

IV.—COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS.

A committee, not to exceed one hundred in number, shall be appointed by the President of the Congress, and shall be known as the Committee on Ways and Means, whose duty it shall be to devise and execute methods by which the necessary expenses of the Congress may be defrayed.

V.—LITERARY BUREAU.

The Secretary-General may at his discretion organize a Literary Bureau, which shall consist of such number of linguists as he may determine, whose duty it shall be to do all necessary translating for the Congress, compensation for which service shall be determined by the Executive Committee. Certain members of the Literary Bureau may be designated by the Secretary-General as an Editorial Committee. It shall be the duty of the Editorial Committee to determine the eligibility of all contributions before the same shall be published in the Transactions, and to supervise the publication of both the Book of Abstracts and the Transactions. All work done by the Editorial Committee and by the Literary Bureau shall be subject to approval by the Secretary-General.

VI.—EXPENDITURES.

The Executive Committee shall designate all expenditures by the various officers before the same shall be contracted, providing that expenses already incurred by the Committee on Permanent Organization shall be paid out of any funds in the hands of the Treasurer of the Congress.

VII.—MEETINGS.

The first meeting of the Trustees shall be held in Detroit, Mich., on June 8, 1892. Thereafter all meetings shall be held at such time and place as the Executive Committee shall designate. The Executive Committee shall meet on the call of the Chairman.

VIII.—VOUCHERS.

The form of vouchers hereunto annexed shall be the form used in the payment of all accounts by the Treasurer, and shall be in duplicate, one for the Treasurer and one for the Secretary-General.

SECTION ON THE PRACTICE

ARTICLE 1

The first section of the article discusses the general principles of the practice, including the importance of maintaining accurate records and the role of the practitioner in ensuring the integrity of the process. It also outlines the responsibilities of the various parties involved, such as the client, the practitioner, and the regulatory body. The text emphasizes the need for transparency and accountability in all aspects of the practice.

ARTICLE 2

The second section of the article details the specific rules and procedures that govern the practice. This includes the requirements for the practitioner's qualifications, the standards for the quality of work, and the procedures for handling complaints and disputes. It also addresses the issue of confidentiality and the protection of sensitive information. The text provides a comprehensive framework for the practice, ensuring that all participants are held to the same high standards of conduct and performance.

SECTION OF HISTORY

CHAPTER I

The first part of the history of the country is the story of the early settlers. They came from the east and west, and they brought with them the customs and habits of their respective countries. They found the land fertile and the climate healthy, and they were attracted to it by the promise of a better life. They cleared the land and planted crops, and they built houses and towns. They were the first to discover the gold and silver mines, and they were the first to exploit them. They were the first to establish a government, and they were the first to create a nation.

CHAPTER II

The second part of the history of the country is the story of the early years of the nation. It is a story of struggle and triumph, of hardship and hope. The early years were a time of great difficulty and danger. The settlers were often attacked by the Indians, and they were often plagued by disease and famine. They were often in a state of conflict with each other, and they were often in a state of rebellion against their government. But they were also a time of great achievement and progress. The settlers discovered the gold and silver mines, and they were the first to exploit them. They were the first to establish a government, and they were the first to create a nation. They were the first to build a great empire, and they were the first to create a great civilization.

SECTION ON HYGIENE, CLIMATE AND DEGRADATION

CLIMATE AND DEGRADATION

The present study has been carried out in order to determine the influence of the climate on the degradation of the different types of materials used in the construction of buildings. The results obtained show that the degradation of the materials is directly related to the climatic conditions, particularly to the temperature and the relative humidity. The study has shown that the degradation of the materials is more rapid in hot and humid climates than in cold and dry climates. The results obtained are of great interest for the design and construction of buildings in different climatic zones.

SECTION ON OXIDIZING SUGAR

EXPERIMENTAL PROCEDURE

The following procedure is for the determination of the amount of oxidizing sugar in a sample. The sample is weighed and placed in a beaker. A known amount of water is added and the mixture is allowed to stand for a few minutes. The mixture is then filtered and the filtrate is placed in a test tube. A few drops of a solution of potassium dichromate are added and the mixture is allowed to stand for a few minutes. The mixture is then heated and the color is observed. The amount of oxidizing sugar is determined from the color.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

The results of the experiment are as follows:

TABLE I

Sample No.	Amount of Oxidizing Sugar (g)
1	0.12
2	0.15
3	0.18
4	0.21
5	0.24
6	0.27
7	0.30
8	0.33
9	0.36
10	0.39

SECTION ON DISEASES OF THE MIND AND NERVOUS SYSTEM

DISCUSSION

The first of the cases reported in this paper is that of a patient who had been suffering from a chronic form of insanity for many years. The patient had been in the hospital for a long time and had been treated with various methods, but without any permanent improvement. The patient's condition was such that he was unable to take care of himself and was a constant burden on the hospital. The patient's behavior was characterized by extreme irritability and a tendency to violence. He was unable to form any rational ideas and was completely unresponsive to any form of reasoning. The patient's condition was such that he was unable to take care of himself and was a constant burden on the hospital. The patient's behavior was characterized by extreme irritability and a tendency to violence. He was unable to form any rational ideas and was completely unresponsive to any form of reasoning.
