ONE HUNDRED COPIES REPRINTED FROM THE PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY, APRIL, 1897.

EARLY AMERICAN BROADSIDES,

1680-1800.

SAMUEL F. HAVEN, LL.D., the late librarian of the American Antiquarian Society, in a report presented in April, 1872, called attention to Broad­sides and their value as material for history and said, "they imply a great deal more than they literally express and disclose visions of the interior condition of society such as cannot be found in formal narratives." Dr. Haven, in company with the late Charles Deane, LL.D., had, a few years previously, examined with great interest the large and valuable collection of Broad­sides in the library of the Society of Antiquaries of London and in the above mentioned report alludes to it with some particularity.

Mr. W. H. Overall, formerly librarian of the Corporation of London, presented a paper on Broad­sides, at a meeting of the Library Association of the United Kingdom, held in February, 1881, in which he speaks of the valuable collection of the Society of Antiquaries, and of the historical information derived from this class of literature. He also suggests that an index of all collections of this kind would be of great value to historical students.¹

The Boston Public Library has a valuable collection of this class of historical literature, and has from time to time published fac-similes of the more important ones.²

With the report of Dr. Haven in mind, the writer has

¹ A catalogue of the Printed Broad­sides in the possession of the Society of Antiquaries, compiled by Robert Lemon, was published in 1866.

² Boston. Public Library Bulletins, October, 1892, and January and October, 1893.

looked over the collection of Broad­sides belonging to the American Antiquarian Society and, as supplementary to his "Early American Imprints" presented in October, 1895, has made a list of the American Broad­sides in the Society's library, printed from 1680 to 1800 inclusive, in the hope that it may be of some use to students who have occasion to consult our library.

This list, which includes about two hundred titles, has several of historical interest, notably those printed during the Revolutionary period, there being over sixty issued between 1772 and 1779, most of which were printed at Boston.

The earliest printed broadside found in the collection of the American Antiquarian Society, is dated London, 1660; it is a "Proclamation Against Vicious, Debauch'd and Prophan­e Persons," issued by authority of Charles II. at Whitehall, and printed by Christopher Baker and John Bell, Printers to the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

The earliest American Broadside that has yet come to light is a Proclamation for Fast issued by the General Court of Massachusetts in 1680-1. There is a large collection of this class of Broad­sides, there being nearly one hundred annual Fast and Thanksgiving Proclamations printed before 1800, besides several issued for special occasions, but as all these have been so fully described by our associate, Rev. W. DeLoss Love, Jr., in his "The Fast and Thanksgiving Days of New England," it was not deemed necessary to include them in the present list.

But few of the Broad­sides mentioned have been given in full, as brief abstracts or shortened titles, it was thought, would furnish the needed information. The collection has been mounted and arranged in chronological order, so that it can be readily consulted.

The Society's collection of Broad­sides printed since 1800 is very large and is being constantly added to; it includes, besides three volumes of ballads and songs published from 1812 to 1816 and preserved by the founder of our Society, a large number of musical and dramatic posters, the Fast and Thanksgiving Proclamations to date, as also many political broadsides of more or less interest.

1680.

Fast Proclamation, April 21 1680^o/₁ Cut of Colonial Arms at the top. 8 x 11³/₄ inches.

[This is the Earliest American broadside in the Collection of the American Antiquarian Society. It is fully described in "Early American Imprints, 1640-1700," presented at the meeting of the Society in October, 1895.

There are many other Fast Proclamations in the collection, also a number of Thanksgiving Proclamations, but, as already stated, these have been treated of by Rev. W. DeLoss Love, Jr., in his "The Fast and Thanksgiving Days of New England," and are not included in this list. It may be said in brief that from 1729 to 1800 there are forty-three Fast Proclamations and forty-four Thanksgiving Proclamations belonging to the Society.]

Father Ab—y's Will. To which is now added A letter of Courtship to his virtuous and amiable Widow.

Cambridge, Dec. 1731.

Some time since died here, Mr. Matthew Ab—y, in a very advanced age. He had for a great Number of Years served the College in Quality of Bedmaker and Sweeper. [Then follows in comic verse the will.]

Newhaven, January 2, 1731.

Our Sweeper having lately buried his Spouse, and accidentally hearing of the death and will of his deceased Cambridge brother, has conceived a violent passion for the relict, &c., &c. 7½ x 19.

[The will is said to have been written by John Seccombe, afterwards a settled minister at Harvard, and the letter of courtship by Col. John Hubbard of New Haven. John Seccombe was the first minister of Harvard, Mass. He graduated at Cambridge in 1728, and died at Nova Scotia in 1793.]

Another Version of the Will is arranged in fourteen verses and the letter of Courtship in eleven. 8½ x 12¼.

Also one printed in Salem. 8¾ x 14.

Another Version of the same, entitled Old Timothy Jobson. 5½ x 14½.

[In MS. at the top of broadside. "The following was wrote by John Seccombe of Medford in the County of Middlesex Massachusetts Bay in New England on Father Abbey, Bedmaker with his wife & sweeper of Massachusetts Colledge, com'ly called New College, in the Autumn of the year 1731 all of whom S Curwen personally knew."]

1733.

The Declaration, Dying Warning and Advice of Rebekah Chamblit, A Young Woman Aged near Twenty-seven Years, Executed at Boston September 27th 1733, &c., &c., being found Guilty of Felony, in concealing the Birth of her spurious Male Infant &c., afterwards found Dead, &c.

Boston: Printed and Sold by S. Kneeland and T Green, in Queen-street. Black border. 12 x 15¼.

The Confession and Dying Warning of Hugh Henderson, Who was Executed at Worcester, in the County of Worcester, Nov. 26, 1737. [Also] "A Poem Occasioned by the untimely Death of Hugh Henderson, alias John Hamilton, who was Hanged at Worcester for House-Breaking, Nov. 24, 1737."

Boston: Printed and Sold at the Printing House in Queen Street over against the Prison. 12¾ x 16.

[This was the first Execution in Worcester County, after its foundation in 1731. Brief notices announcing the event appeared in the Boston Evening Post of September 26, 1737, Boston News Letter, September 29, and a notice of the execution in the New England Weekly Journal for December 6 of same year. Henderson was first sentenced to be hung in October, but the Court Records show that the Execution did not take place till November 24. He was tried and sentenced as John Hamilton, but afterwards gave the name of John Henderson as being the true one.¹ A sermon was preached before the execution by Rev. John Campbell of Oxford.

In the Confession the date of Execution is given as Nov. 26th, while in the poem Nov. 24th is given, the first named is probably a typographical error, as Nov. 24 is, according to the New England Weekly Journal of Dec. 6, 1737, which published an account of the Execution dated Worcester, Nov. 26, 1737, the correct date.]

By His Excellency Jonathan Belcher, Esq; Captain General and Governour in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of the Massachusetts-Bay in New England.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a Scheme for emitting Bills or Notes by John Colman, Esq; and others, was laid before the Great and General Court or Assembly of this His Majesty's Province, in their session held at Boston, the Fifth Day of December 1739, and by the Report of a Committee appointed by said Court was represented, if carried on, to have a great Tendency to endamage His Majesty's good Subjects as to their Properties;

And whereas Application has been very lately made to Me and His Majesty's Council, by a great Number of Men of the most considerable Estates and Business, praying that some proper Method may be taken to prevent the Inhabitants of this Province being imposed upon by the said Scheme; and it being very apparent that these Bills or Notes promise nothing of any determinate Value, and cannot have any general certain or established Credit; Wherefore,

I have thought fit, by and with the Advice of His Majesty's Council, to issue this Proclamation, hereby giving Notice and Warning to all His Majesty's good Subjects of the Danger they are in, and cautioning them against receiving or passing the said Notes, as tending to defraud Men of their Substance, and to disturb the Peace and good Order of the People, and to give great Interruption, and bring much Confusion into their Trade and Business.

Given at the Council Chamber in Boston, the Seventeenth Day of July 1740. In the Fourteenth Year of the Reign of Our Sovereign Lord GEORGE the Second by the Grace of GOD of Great Britain, France and Ireland, KING Defender of the Faith, &c. J. BELCHER.

By Order of His Excellency the Governour, with the Advice of the Council, J. WILLARD, Secr.

God save the King. $7\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{3}{4}$.

[This is followed by an address signed by about 130 merchants of Boston and vicinity, warning the public against the Land Bank scheme and advising them not to take or use the bills issued under that scheme, and agreeing themselves to refuse all such bills. Among the signers are John Osborne, Edward Hutchinson, James Bowdoin, Peter Faneuil, Andrew Oliver, Samuel Sewall, Thomas Hancock, Cornelius Waldo, Thomas Hutchinson, and Edmund Quincy. Closing with, "It is hoped, That Masters and Mistresses of Family's will caution their Servants from taking in exchange or otherwise, any of said Bills if offered them, as such a thing may serve to give 'em an entrance into Credit, which would prove of dangerous consequence."]

D. DOUGLASS.

[This is a notice by David Douglass of his intention to bring a theatrical company from the Barbados, to unite with his Company from London. He speaks of his “motives for planning an Entertainment this Winter, which I flatter myself, would not have been altogether unworthy the attention of so respectable and judicious an audience as the ladies and gentlemen of Carolina compose.” He proposes to employ “artificers to refit the Theatre, and make such commodious and elegant alterations, as the construction of it would admit” &c. He regrets, that word has been received from Barbados that the Company cannot leave “that island before the end of March,” &c. Some ladies and gentlemen insisting however that he should open the theatre with the Company brought from London, he gives notice that he will do so, regretting that he cannot give as “sumptuous a bill of fare” as he would like to do, but was “obliged to submit, as there is nothing a Carolina audience can ask, that I dare refuse.” He announces that he shall “proceed with the utmost despatch to refit the Theatre” which he hopes “will be in proper order to receive an audience on Monday the 11th instant; when by permission of his honour the Lieutenant Governour, he proposes to open it, with a Play and Farce, which will be expressed in the bills of the day.”

David Douglass, who maintained a dramatic company in America for fifteen or more years, married the widow of Lewis Hallam, who, at Williamsburg, Va., in September, 1752, was the manager of the first regular company of players that appeared in this country.

Dunlap in his “History of the American Theatre” says the first theatre in Charleston was built in 1773, and Seilhamer in his “History of the American Theatre before the Revolution” makes the same statement. From this broadside it would appear there must have been a building there known as the Theatre some eight years earlier.

Neither Dunlap or Seilhamer allude to Douglass as being at Charleston as early as 1765, although the latter gives a detailed notice of him and his appearance at various places from 1758 to 1775. Seilhamer says a theatre was built at Charleston for Douglass’s “American Company” in 1773.]

At a meeting of the freeholders and other inhabitants of the town of Boston, assembled at Faneuil-hall, 26th July, 1774. Voted, That a letter be sent to the several towns and districts in the province signed by the Town-Clerk, and transmitted by the Committee of Correspondence. Attest.

[In MS.] WILLIAM COOPER, Town Clerk.

[The letter begins] Our public Calamities have for a series of years been increasing both in number and weight. We have endeavoured under all our public Misfortunes to
* Conduct as good Citizens in a Common Cause, &c. . . .

Two Acts of Parliament, altering the course of Justice, and annihilating our once free Constitution of Government, are every day expected.

You, Gentlemen, our friends, countrymen and benefactors, may possibly look towards us in this great crisis. We trust that we shall not be left of Heaven to do anything derogatory to the common liberties, unworthy the fame of ancestors, or inconsistent with our former professions and conduct. [Closing with the words.] To you Gentlemen, our brethren and dear companions in the Cause of God and our Country, we apply; from you we have received that countenance and aid, which has strengthened our hands, and that bounty which hath occasioned smiles on the face of distress. To you, therefore, we look for that Wisdom, Advice and Example, which, giving strength to our understanding, and vigor to our actions, shall, with the blessing of God, save us from destruction.

In Provincial Congress, Cambridge, December 6, 1774. Resolved, That the following Address be presented to the several Ministers of the Gospel in this Province.

Reverend Sir. When we contemplate the Friendship and Assistance, our Ancestors the first settlers of this Province (while overwhelmed with Distress) received from the pious Pastors of the Churches of Christ, who, to enjoy the Rights of Conscience, fled with them to this Land, then a savage Wilderness, we find ourselves fill’d with the most grateful Sensations.—&c., &c.

[Recommends to the Ministers of the Gospel,] in the several Towns and other Places in this Colony, that they assist us, in avoiding that dreadful Slavery with which we are now threatened, by advising the People of their several Congregations, as they wish their Prosperity, to abide by and strictly adhere to the Resolutions of the Continental Congress, as the most peaceable and probable Method of preventing Confusion and Bloodshed, and of restoring that Harmony between Great-Britain and these Colonies, on which we wish might be established not only the Rights and Liberties of America, but the Opulence and lasting Happiness of the whole British Empire.

Sign'd by Order of the Provincial Congress,

Boston, February 25, 1775, Gentlemen, The following Proceedings and Votes of the Joint Committees of this and seven other towns are conveyed to you by their unanimous request. . . The importance of the subject at this critical time when our Enemies are aided by some of our deluded fellow citizens, must strike you forcibly. The army by the number of waggons which they have engaged must be in want of a number of horses and cattle, it is wholly with our friends in the Country to prevent their supply, but we need not dictate to them the mode. The cannon and baggage of the army must remain here unless you supply them with horses and Cattle, &c. By Order of the Committee.

[Then follows] At a meeting of the Committees of Correspondence of the several towns of Boston, Charlestown, Cambridge, Medford, Lexington, Watertown, Brookline, and Concord. Whereas the representative Body of this province in Congress assembled at Cambridge considering that certain persons were Employed in divers Kind of work for the Army in order to enable them to take the field and distress the inhabitants, &c., &c. [Made certain recommendations relative to supplying the troops at Boston with various articles, &c. It was voted] That no teams be suffered to load in, or after loading to pass through, any town in this province for Boston; [except under certain conditions.]

In the first broadside the printing is carried over to the other side of sheet.]

In Provincial Congress, Watertown, May 5, 1775. Whereas the Term for which this present Congress was chose, expires on the Thirtieth Instant, and the Exigencies of our Public Affairs, render it absolutely necessary for the Safety of this Colony that a new Congress be elected and convened, to consider of, and transact the Public affairs thereof :

[Then follows Resolve recommending the towns to elect forthwith as many members, as to them shall seem necessary, &c.] Also under same date, Whereas his Excellency General Gage, since his Arrival into this Colony, hath conducted as an Instrument in the Hands of an arbitrary Ministry, to enslave this People; and a Detachment of the Troops, under his Command, has of late been by him ordered to the Town of Concord to destroy public Stores, &c., &c. It was Therefore Resolved, That the said General Gage, hath by these and many other means utterly disqualified himself to serve this Colony as a Governor, &c., &c.

By the Great and General Court of the Colony of Massachusetts-Bay. A Proclamation.

The Frailty of human Nature, the Wants of Individuals, and the numerous Dangers which surround them, through the Course of Life, have in all Ages, and in every Country, impell'd them to form Societies, and establish Governments, &c., &c.

But as our Enemies have proceeded to such barbarous Extremities commencing Hostilities upon the Good People of this Colony, &c., &c.—the Congress have resolved:—"That no Obedience being due to the Act of Parliament for altering the Charter of the Colony of Massachusetts-Bay, nor to a Governor or Lieutenant Governor, who will not observe the Directions of, but endeavour to subvert that Charter; the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of that Colony, are to be considered as absent, and their Offices vacant; and as there is no Council there, and Inconveniences arising from the Suspension of the Powers of Government, are intolerable, especially at a Time when General Gage hath actually levied War," &c., &c.

Recommends, "the Provincial Convention, to write Letters to the Inhabitants of the several Places which are intitled to Representation in Assembly, requesting them to chuse Representatives," &c., &c. [It speaks of the "War without parellel in the annals of Mankind" which the Country had so lately passed through; refers to the great depreciation in the money and gives reason why it had depreciated. Recommends that those, "who have leisure and opportunity, collect the monies which individuals in their neighbourhood are desirous of placing in the public funds," &c., that the several legislatures sink their respective emissions, that so there being but one kind of bills, there may be less danger of counterfeit. Suggests economy and that things not absolutely necessary should not be purchased. "Above all bring your Armies into the field. Trust not to appearances of peace or safety. Be assured that, unless you persevere, you will be exposed to every species of barbarity. But if you exert the means of defence which God and Nature have given you, the time will soon arrive, when every man shall sit under his own vine, and under his own fig-tree, and there shall be none to make him afraid."
