COLLECTED BY

JOEL MUNSELL, ALBANY.

ALBANY:
J. MUNSELL, 78 STATE STREET.
1856.
NOTICE.

This Collection embraces a large number of works most essential to the Librarian, in all the languages of Europe, and in extent is exceeded only by that presented to the Astor Library by Dr. Cogswell. It being desirable to dispose of it entire, and looking only among the public libraries for a purchaser, the titles are given in short, and very few allusions made to rarities. Many of the works in this branch of literature are now extremely scarce, and every day becoming more difficult to find, yet the prices affixed to these have little relation to such adventitious values. They have been mostly rebound, except when it was desirable to preserve the original bindings, which in some cases are very rich and unique, having come from the libraries of noted collectors in Europe, Asia and America, kings and princes, universities and monasteries, noblemen and gentlemen of taste in the choice of copies, and the styles of their bindings.

Of this truly splendid and valuable work, copies were printed, for presentation only. The magnificent collection of which it is an inventory, was made by George III., at an expense of more than $700,000. It was presented by George IV. to the British Museum—a donation which was justly styled "a gift greater than has been bestowed by any sovereign of any nation since the Library of the Ptolemies was founded at Alexandria." Copies of this Catalogue have produced 50 guineas at auction, and it has been sold for $300 in this country.

Annals of Albany. By Joel Munsell. 6 vols. 12mo, 6 00

Its contributions to history and antiquities contain much that is curious and interesting, obtained at no little cost of time and labor. No one has done more to recall the ancient features of the city. Curious in these matters, the author culled and preserves them in their antique forms, and thus rescues them from the oblivion into which the structures, the ways, the customs, and even the names of the olden times would otherwise be liable to pass. The modern names and places, by the side of the ancient annals and things, combine the past and the present in useful and interesting juxtaposition. The curious in these researches will find this book a treasure, and well worth the price. It has fine views of Albany, as it is, and illustrative wood cuts and maps; but its chief interest consists in its portraiture of Albany as it was in the olden time.—Argus.
