

11914. Misbranding of Orange Blossom female suppositories. U. S. v. 93 Boxes of Orange Blossom Female Suppositories. Default decree of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction. (F. & D. No. 16653. S. No. C-3713.)

On July 24, 1922, the United States attorney for the District of Minnesota, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel, and on September 11, 1922, an amended libel, praying the seizure and condemnation of 93 boxes of Orange Blossom female suppositories, remaining in the original unbroken packages at St. Paul, Minn., alleging that the article had been shipped by the Williams Mfg. Co., from Cleveland, Ohio, May 20, 1922, and transported from the State of Ohio into the State of Minnesota, and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act, as amended. The article was labeled in part: (Circular) "For Diseases Peculiar To Women * * * Female Weakness * * * In cases of Pregnancy, the Suppositories may be safely used up to the fourth month * * * consequently relieving the patient of much suffering at child-birth. In cases of Change of Life, the Suppositories will relieve the organ of the morbid conditions * * * Nervous sick headache, backache, irritation of the stomach, spinal irritation, pain between the shoulders, distressing sensation in the back of the head, nape of the neck, and numbness and coldness of the extremities. In these cases the Suppositories will give relief by their action on the womb. * * * For * * * Inflammation, Congestion and Falling of the Womb, Anteversion, Retroversion and Prolapsus, Ulceration, Leucorrhoea, Profuse and Difficult Menstruation."

Analysis of a sample of the article by the Bureau of Chemistry of this department showed that the suppositories consisted essentially of cocoa butter, petrolatum, boric acid, sodium sulphate, and a little flour.

Misbranding of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that the above-quoted statements regarding the curative and therapeutic effects of the said article were false and fraudulent, since it contained no ingredient or combination of ingredients capable of producing the effects claimed.

On September 14, 1923, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

11915. Adulteration of canned salmon. U. S. v. 97 Cases and 90 Cases of Canned Salmon. Default orders of condemnation, forfeiture, and destruction. (F. & D. Nos. 16654, 16655. S. No. C-3719.)

On July 25, 1922, the United States attorney for the Southern District of Mississippi, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district libels praying the seizure and condemnation of 187 cases of canned salmon, remaining in the original and unbroken packages at Laurel, Miss., alleging that the article had been shipped by P. E. Harris & Co., from Seattle, Wash., on or about February 19, 1922, and transported from State of Washington into the State of Mississippi, and charging adulteration in violation of the Food and Drugs Act. The article was labeled in part: (Can) "Amelia Brand * * * Chum Salmon."

Adulteration of the article was alleged in the libels for the reason that it consisted wholly or in part of a filthy, decomposed, and putrid animal substance.

On March 15, 1923, orders having been theretofore entered providing for the confiscation and forfeiture of the product, it was ordered by the court that the said product be destroyed by the United States marshal.
