

at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the article had been shipped by the Rock Falls Creamery Co., from Caryville, Wis., July 16, 1929, and transported from the State of Wisconsin into the State of Illinois, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that a substance, to wit, excessive water, had been mixed and packed with the said article, so as to reduce and lower and injuriously affect its quality and strength; for the further reason that a substance deficient in butterfat had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce, or lower, or injuriously affect its quality or strength and had been substituted wholly or in part for the said article; and for the further reason that the article did not comply with the standard established by Congress.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the article was offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article.

On August 30, 1929, Edward Macek, claimant, having admitted the allegations of the libel and having consented to the entry of a decree, judgment was entered finding the product adulterated and ordering its condemnation and forfeiture, and it was further ordered by the court that the said product be released to the claimant upon payment of costs and the execution of a bond in the sum of $1,000, conditioned in part that it be reprocessed, under the supervision of this department, so that it contain not less than 80 per cent of butterfat.

On September 9, 1929, the United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying seizure and condemnation of 17 tubs of butter, remaining in the original unbroken packages at Chicago, Ill., alleging that the article had been shipped by the York Cooperative Creamery Association, from Williamsburg, Iowa, August 30, 1929, and transported from the State of Iowa into the State of Illinois, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that excessive water had been mixed and packed with it so as to reduce and lower and injuriously affect its quality and strength; in that a substance deficient in milk fat and high in moisture had been substituted wholly or in part for the said article; in that a valuable constituent, to wit, butterfat, had been in part abstracted from the article; and in that it contained less than 80 per cent of butterfat.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the article was offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article.

On September 12, 1929, the H. C. Christians Co., Chicago, Ill., claimant, having admitted the allegations of the libel and having consented to the entry of a decree, judgment was entered finding the product adulterated and ordering its condemnation and forfeiture, and it was further ordered by the court that the said product be released to the claimant upon payment of costs and the execution of a bond in the sum of $1,000, conditioned in part that it be reprocessed so that it contain not less than 80 per cent of milk fat.
