

It was alleged in the libels that the article was adulterated in that it was sold under a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia, namely, "Camphor Liniment", and different from the standard of strength, quality, and purity as set forth in the said pharmacopoeia, and its own standard was not stated on the label.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the name of the article, "Camphor Liniment", was false and misleading, since it contained significant proportions of drugs other than camphor. Misbranding was alleged for the further reason that the following statements regarding its curative or therapeutic effects, were false and fraudulent, since the article contained no ingredient or combination of ingredients capable of producing the effects claimed: (Bottle) "For Rheumatism, * * * Swellings, Soreness, Stiff Joints, * * * Frost Bites, * * * Pain in Side, Chest or Back. * * * Affected Parts * * * For Curb, Sweeney, Bone Spavin, Wind Galls, &c."; (carton) "Curing all Curable Lameness, Inflammation, wounds. * * * Sore neck or Shoulder, Contracted Cords, * * * Stiff Joints, Sweeney, Curb, Etc. * * * Affected Parts * * * For Curb, Sweeney, Bone Spavin, Wind Galls, &c. * * * For Rheumatism, * * * Swellings, * * * Soreness, Stiff Joints, * * * Frost Bites, * * * Pimples, Pains in Side, Chest or Back."

On June 30, 1933, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgments were entered ordering that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

21233. Misbranding of Tarolfectant. U. S. v. 1 Drum of Tarolfectant. Default decree of destruction entered. (F. & D. no. 30071. Sample no. 22116-A.)

Examination of the product Tarolfectant disclosed that it contained no ingredient or combination of ingredients capable of producing certain curative and therapeutic effects claimed in the labeling.

On April 11, 1933, the United States attorney for the District of Minnesota, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of one drum of Tarolfectant at Windom, Minn., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce, on or about March 4, 1933, by the Sioux Oil Tar Disinfecting Co., from Sioux City, Iowa, and charging misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act as amended.

Analysis of a sample of the article by this Department showed that it consisted of coal-tar oils.

It was alleged in the libel that the article was misbranded in that the following statements on the label, regarding the curative or therapeutic effects of the article, were false and fraudulent: "Hog Flu * * * Directions for Hog Flu * * * Three treatments in nine days should make all your hogs * * * in a more healthful condition."

On June 7, 1933, no claimant having appeared for the property, judgment was entered ordering that the product be destroyed by the United States marshal.

21234. Adulteration and misbranding of tincture digitalis. U. S. v. Eight 1-Pint Bottles of Tincture Digitalis. Default decree of condemnation and destruction. (F. & D. no. 30499. Sample no. 31862-A.)

This case involved a product, represented to be tincture of digitalis of pharmacopoeial standard, which was found to have a potency of not more than two-thirds of that required by the United States Pharmacopoeia for tincture of digitalis.

On or about May 22, 1933, the United States attorney for the District of Connecticut, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the district court a libel praying seizure and condemnation of eight 1-pint bottles of tincture of digitalis at Stamford, Conn., alleging that the article had been shipped in interstate commerce, on or about October 22, 1931, by William R. Warner & Co., Inc., from New York, N.Y., and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the Food and Drugs Act. The article was labeled in part: "Tincture * * * Digitalis * * * U. S. P. X." The article was labeled in part: "Tincture Fat Free Digitalis S. & H. U. S. P. X. * * * The Searle & Hereth Co. Manufacturing Chemists Laboratories New York St. Louis."

It was alleged in the libel that the article was adulterated in that it was sold under a name recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia, and differed from
